The Scientific Review is a fictional magazine brand I created for this magazine cover. I created this piece for a university course project. Using InDesign and Photoshop, I resized the image and recolored part of the second one. I used Illustrator to create a quick vector logo for this magazine. Using the font family, I created visual hierarchy by switching font weights and sizes.

Artistic Landscapes Branding

This design series was part of college project. I needed to create extra brand identities to showcase my talents. This particular brand was done using Adobe Photoshop. I used Photoshop to create a hand drawn tree and coupled that with organic looking fonts for a typography based logo.

Amethyst Bay Resort is a fictional resort. This was part of a university project in which photoshop and InDesign and Illustrator were used to create a magazine ad for a luxury resort. Approved colors and branding were given and the images used were royalty free. I wanted to design an ad that drew in new clients while emphasizing that this is a luxury resort.

I created this menu for my university class. Following the brand guides, I incorporated what the brand stands for, and the overall message that the company wants to send. TOWN is a fictional , luxury, five star chinese restaurant that is looking to attract the wealthy elite and business professionals. The menu was designed using Adobe Indesign and Adobe Illustrator . Bright orange was chosen from the approved palette instead of red to give a modern and sophisticated flair to the design.

This poster was created for the drama department at Everett Community College as part of my design internship. Adobe InDesign and Adobe Photoshop were used in the process. The concept was a take on the Brady Bunch introduction with the characters in the individual squares interacting with one another in some sort of way.

Gehl House Historical Ad

I created this as a college piece. It's a mock ad for my local historical society. The photography used is my own. I designed this piece using Adobe Photoshop. The concept was to use the image of the Gehl House to create a realistic looking mock ad for my local historical society. The Gehl House is owned by the historical society, and the hours listed are the actual tour dates and times.

This logo was created for contract job. My client's company was retrofitting luxury yahts with a green technology to make them environmentally friendly. I used Photoshop for the leaves and the hand drawn look for the eagle. The anchor was done in Adobe Illustrator and they typography was set using Illustrator. The company was owned and operated by disabled veterans from all military branches and the client really wanted something that felt patriotic and conveyed their green technology business.

These posts were created using Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator. I created my own sparkle effect brush for Adobe Photoshop, and the flame were done using a brush tool. The berries were done in Adobe Illustrator and then imported into the document. The idea was to create something that could be used each week of Advent by simply "lighting" a new candle each week.

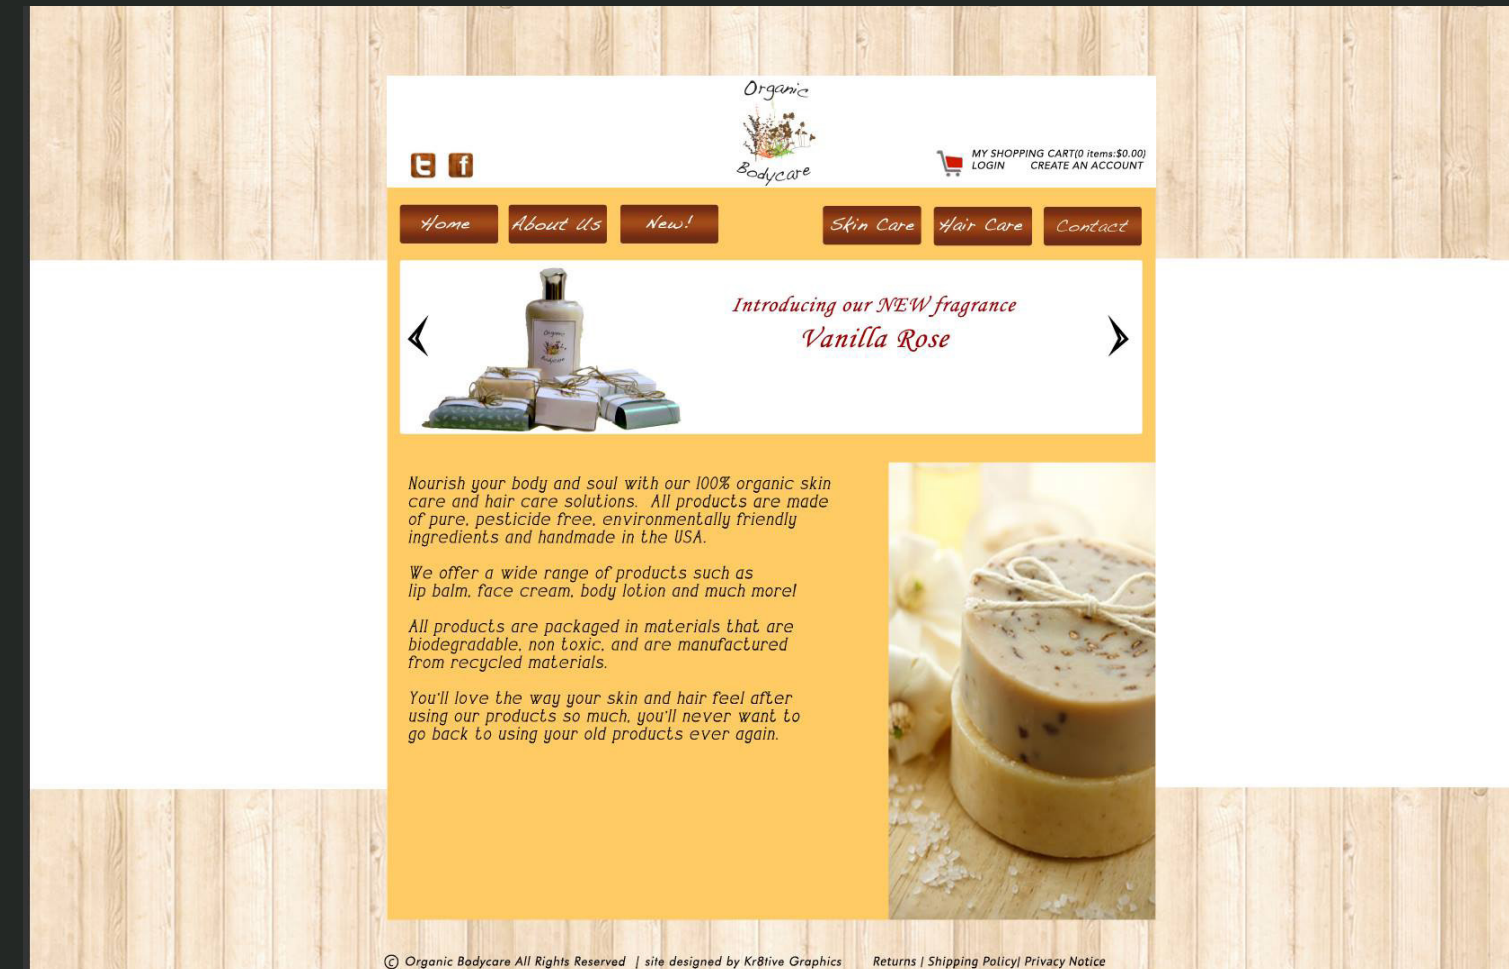

This design is one of the social media graphics that I created using Photoshop. The images are all free for commercial or personal use from Pexels or Pixabay. The below image was created using Adobe Photoshop. The image is royalty free. The idea was to create some spiritual posts for their social media accounts that were uplifting as a way to end the day on a positive and hopeful note.

This is a website mockup that I created in Adobe Photoshop for a college assignment. I created a logo for a fictional organic skincare company using Adobe Illustrator, then created packaging, and finally a mockup of what their website would look like. I chose to keep with earthy tones for a visually organic feel. I also used a handwritten font to convey a feeling of handmade items.

This a complete branding project that is a university project and also my personal brand. This was done using Adobe Illustrator, Photoshop and InDesign. I wanted my brand to convey passion and excitement, while showing that I am an out of the box thinker, and try to find visually unique and creative solutions. The spiral book is my leave-behind designed for functional use as a notebook and as a way to display my work.
